

Wines by the glass

WINTER 2015

Argentina

Over the past 10 years Malbec has taken the world by storm; it's gone from being a little known rarity on a wine list to being the wine everybody talks about. The country behind this revolution is Argentina, who now makes more than any other country in the world, and what a good job it does! However there is more to Argentina than Malbec; the high altitude of the Andes helps produce fresh aromatic whites and reds from well known varieties that are bold, rich and elegant.
