

A close-up, shallow depth-of-field photograph of a crystal chandelier. Several strands of clear, faceted crystals hang down, with some in sharp focus and others blurred. The background is a colorful, abstract pattern of stained glass in shades of blue, green, yellow, and red, also out of focus. The overall lighting is warm and soft.

"Visited Amaya with work colleagues plus partners. We were in the private dining room. Food, drinks and service were exceptional. Our party included a vegetarian and vegan which didn't cause any problems - would highly highly recommend"
