SAKE

JUNMAI & HONJOZO

Junmai is a category of sake made purely from rice, water, yeast, and koji mould, with no added distilled alcohol, typically resulting in a fuller body and more pronounced rice flavour. In contrast, Honjozo includes a small amount of distilled alcohol added during brewing, a traditional technique used to lighten the body, enhance aroma, and create a smoother, more refined finish.

JUNMAI GINJO & GINJO

Junmai Ginjo is premium sake made from rice polished to 60% or less, using only rice, water, yeast, and koji, producing refined, aromatic flavours with delicate fruit and floral notes. Ginjo adds a small amount of distilled alcohol, enhancing aroma and creating a lighter, smoother, more fragrant style.

SAKE

JUNMAI DAIGINJO & DAIGINJO

Junmai Daiginjo is ultra-premium sake made from rice polished to 50% or less, using only rice, water, yeast, and kōji, creating refined, complex sake with elegant fruity and floral aromas. Daiginjo adds a small amount of distilled alcohol to enhance aromatics and produce a lighter, exceptionally smooth, fragrant style.

LEFLAIVE RESERVE

DOMAINE LEFLAIVE

PULIGNY-MONTRACHET
DEPUIS 1717

Domaine Leflaive is one of the most revered white wine estates in Burgundy, France, with roots dating back to the early 18th century and a modern reputation built in the 20th century for exceptional Chardonnay from Puligny-Montrachet's Grand Cru and Premier Cru sites.

The family domaine is a benchmark for purity, elegance, and terroir expression, and under the leadership of Anne-Claude Leflaive in the 1990s, it became a pioneer of biodynamic viticulture.

CHÂTEAU MERCIAN

Château Mercian is widely regarded as one of Japan's leading and most historic wineries, with roots dating back to the very beginnings of modern Japanese winemaking in the late 19th century. Based primarily in Yamanashi and Nagano, the estate is built around a philosophy of "the right variety in the right place," combining indigenous grapes like Koshu with classic international varieties such as Chardonnay and Merlot to express Japan's diverse terroirs.

GAJA

GAJA

Gaja is one of Italy's most prestigious and influential family-owned wineries, founded in 1859 in the Barbaresco zone of Piedmont. It's best known for high-end Nebbiolo-based wines, especially Barbaresco and Barolo, which helped redefine modern Italian winemaking under the leadership of Angelo Gaja. His innovations, like bottling single-vineyard crus, using small oak barrels, and improving viticultural and cellar techniques, elevated quality and global reputation, often placing Gaja alongside elite European producers.

ANTINORI

The Antinori family has been producing wine in Tuscany since 1385 and is one of Italy's most historic and influential wine dynasties, now spanning 26 generations. While deeply rooted in Chianti Classico tradition, the family became a driving force in modern Italian winemaking through its willingness to innovate beyond restrictive DOC regulations in the late 20th century.

TENUTA SAN GUIDO

TENUTA SAN GUIDO

Tenuta San Guido is a renowned Tuscan estate in Bolgheri, owned by the Incisa della Rocchetta family and best known as the birthplace of Sassicaia, one of the original Super Tuscans. First released in 1968 and developed by Marchese Mario Incisa della Rocchetta, Sassicaia broke with tradition by using Bordeaux grape varieties such as Cabernet Sauvignon and Cabernet Franc. Its success helped establish Bolgheri as a leading wine region and played a key role in elevating the global reputation of modern Italian wines.
